

FOURTH TERM AIRING LOOMS

Expected To Develop at Hearings on Proposal To Limit Presidents to 8 Years.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Both sides of the fourth term question may get a complete airing at public hearings before the Senate Judiciary committee next month on a proposal to limit future presidents to eight years in office.

Chairman Van Nuys (D-Ind.) said yesterday he would use a subcommittee headed by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) to begin hearings on a proposed constitutional amendment of this nature.

Defending the administration, Hatch took Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to task for criticizing President Roosevelt's appointments. For charging the executive branch with incompetency or the home front, and for Taft's allusion to congressional as opposed to presidential responsibility.

Conceding that the conduct of the home front "has not been without error," Hatch demanded to know when such a vast enterprise had been done with perfection. He stressed, on the other hand, the military victories of the United Nations forces, adding:

"I am sure that it does not enhance the reputation of Congress to belittle a President under whose direction these magnificent accomplishments have been possible."

soon after Congress reconvenes in mid-September.

There should be some very interesting public hearings on this question, with both sides of the issue discussed, Van Nuys told an interviewer.

Van Nuys said he had received no indication of the administration's attitude toward the proposal, but he expected an early statement by the executive committee.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.) reiterated in a radio address last night a prediction President Roosevelt would be the Democratic nominee if the war continues or peace negotiations have not been completed.

Defending the administration, Hatch took Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to task for criticizing President Roosevelt's appointments. For charging the executive branch with incompetency or the home front, and for Taft's allusion to congressional as opposed to presidential responsibility.

Conceding that the conduct of the home front "has not been without error," Hatch demanded to know when such a vast enterprise had been done with perfection. He stressed, on the other hand, the military victories of the United Nations forces, adding:

"I am sure that it does not enhance the reputation of Congress to belittle a President under whose direction these magnificent accomplishments have been possible."

Boston Common, the heart of Boston, was once a common cow pasture.

DIAPER RASH

One of nature's greatest aids to baby health, is sleep. And rest and sleep by soothing and relieving diaper rash with Mexazana, formerly Mexican Heat Powder. Relieves itching and cools burning of torturing irritation. A favorite for over forty years. Costs little. Big savings in the larger sizes. Be sure you demand Mexazana.

Cost of levy—Since the average Marion home is valued for taxing purposes at $3,000, the levy would add 50 cents a month or 1-2-3 cents a day to the taxes for the average Marion residence property.

Yield—Estimated at $77,850 a year for two years on the basis of 100 per cent tax collections.

Principal uses of funds—(a) Supply $30,200 needed by the board of education to continue to pay employees at the present level (1944 receipts expected to be $30,200 less than they were in 1943); (b) Make a $15-a-month cost of living adjustment in the wages of all employees beginning Jan. 1, 1944; (c) Pay the increased cost of operating schools.

If levy is defeated—Board of education faces the choice of (a) reducing the cost of schools in 1944 by $30,200, and since 75 per cent of expenditures are for wages this would mean reduction of wages for 1944-45 and failure to allow normal increases on the salary schedule or (b) paying the present wages for the next school year and closing school during the last three school weeks of 1944. Payroll is approximately $10,000 a week during time school is in session. To close schools three weeks would lose the schools $15,000 in state school funds. Either step, officials fear, would cause the loss of a great many members of the teaching staff.

Here Is Summary of Main Reasons for School Levy

Comparison of school costs—The Ohio Chamber of Commerce survey of Ohio city school systems including Marion and eight others of comparable size, shows Marion school costs for the 1941-42 term amounted to $62.74 per pupil, or 22.9 per cent less than the average of the corresponding figures for the other eight cities.

Marion ranks near the bottom of the list in almost every table of comparative school costs issued in recent years.

Instruction costs—Marion city schools' instruction costs amounted to $22.49 per pupil in the 1941-42 term. In the same year, the other eight Ohio school systems surveyed paid an average of $76.40 per pupil for instruction.

Existing salaries—Marion city teachers get an average of $30.28 a week on a 12-month basis. Janitors get an average of $30.43 and principals and supervisors an average of $40.73.

Stimson Visit Is Letdown To Troops Expecting Lamarr

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Secretary of War Stimson definitely doesn't look like Hedy Lamarr and as a result, he said yesterday, provided a major disappointment to a least some troops on his recent tour of battle fronts.

He told a press conference that "When I disembarked from my airplane in Newfoundland, I saw a number of young second lieutenants on the field, whose faces fell. On inquiry I found there had been a rumor that Hedy Lamarr was coming on that plane."

In Iceland, he reported, he found exceptionally high morale among troops that had been stationed there for two years.

On a visit to hospitals in Algiers, he talked with wounded men returning from the Sicilian campaign, and found "plenty of fight left in those men."

Turning to "personal report to the mothers, fathers, wives and sweethearts" of soldiers overseas, Stimson said:

"I now can report that no one need fear for the fighting ability or high morale of the men."

Stimson asserted the "most gratifying thing to me" was development of the power of the American forces to the point where it had "been sufficient to stop the most powerful military machine in history dead in its tracks and set it in reverse."

"Now is the time to increase pressure, building up military power in the air, on the ground, and on the sea. It would be criminal to relax. It would be a breach of faith if we should fail to share the determination of the men to fight this war in the shortest possible time."

Couple Given Shower at Meeting of Grange

A miscellaneous shower was given for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neff at the regular meeting of Martel Grange Tuesday night. Miss Dorothy Sharrock was in charge of the program and was assisted by Jay Hedding, James Midlam, Lowell Price, Mrs. Will Rush, Glade Gunther and Mr. and Mrs. Neff.

Announcement was made that there are 48 dozen cans to be filled for the school cafeteria. Anyone in the community wishing to help can or to donate food to be canned is asked to contact Mrs. Ward Sharrock, Mrs. Clarence Tropp, Mrs. Walter Rinnert, Mrs. John Dalrymple Jr., or Mrs. Kenneth Pangborn.

The juvenile Grange will be in charge of the meeting next Tuesday at the school building. Walter Rinnert is program chairman for that meeting.

Stripes Awarded for CD Service

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The next two or three weeks may find whether farmers will meet the Army's help in harvesting next year's big crop.

The agriculture department's extension service, an agency that has been directing recruitment of volunteer workers, said 1943 harvesting operations starting this month would be the best.

Signs of possible serious shortages already are showing up. North Dakota's made formal request for 15,000 soldiers to help gather the spring wheat crop. The request, approved by Food Administrator Marvin Jones and Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, is pending before the war department.

Use of Troops Promised

The government promised last spring to make troops available in an emergency. Although soldiers have been used in a few areas on minor farm jobs, the North Dakota request, it granted, would be the first big-scale use of service men.

More than 60,000 agricultural workers have been imported from Mexico and the Caribbean area.

The biggest single job this month will be the harvesting, curing and marketing the fine-tubed tobacco crop in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina. Other big August jobs include cutting and storing hay in the dairy belt, harvesting vegetables in various parts of the country, and spring wheat.

Estimate of Extra Needs

The extension service said farm labor needs must be met primarily through local mobilizations. The agriculture department estimated 11,740,000 persons were employed on farms on July 1 and that an additional 200,000 full-time workers would be required through August, September and October.

The extension service reported that many of the more than half a million extra workers placed on farms by July 1 were boys and girls and women.

"Reports from all parts of the country seem to indicate," the service said, "that farmers generally are now willing to accept city workers, especially in those areas where the need is greatest and crops are in danger of being lost."

Associated Press Features

Six bars for service of varying length in civilian defense volunteer activities are being awarded by the O.C.D. The woven ribbons are one-half, one and one quarter inches and may be worn on the lapel or above the left breast pocket. State defense councils determine which workers are eligible for the awards.

MARION COUNTY WOMEN GO TO CAMP PITTINGER

Five Counties Represented in Annual Program.

A group of Marion county women left Thursday to attend a four-day session of rural women at Camp Pittenger near McCutcheonville ending Sunday. The camp is sponsored by agriculture extension offices of five counties and is in charge of home demonstration agents of the counties. Included on the program will be Miss Edna Callahan, clothing specialist from Ohio State university, who will discuss clothing problems tomorrow morning and Mrs. John Ebert, a German refugee, who will speak on life in Nazi Germany tomorrow afternoon. Vesper services will be a feature each day.

Among Marion county women who enrolled are Miss Mella Van Meter, Miss Isabelle Stump, Mrs. Ferdinand Lawrence, Mrs. M. H. Moreland, Mrs. Velma Trihaft, Mrs. Earl James, Mrs. Floyd Un-capper, Mrs. Earl Mehafeffer, Mrs. Stella Mehafeffer, Mrs. L. A. Robinson, Mrs. John Cooney, Mrs. O. E. Barks, Mrs. Carl Lehner, Mrs. Frank Witte, Mrs. L. E. Anderson and Mrs. William Davids. Others announced intention of registering yet this week.

Miss Reva Weimer, Marion county health nurse, is camp nurse and was scheduled to instruct a class in first aid. Mrs. Christine Cook, county home demonstration agent, is in attendance also. Other counties represented are Crawford, Seneca, Wyandot and Erie.

MAR-O-DEL LUNCH ROOM IS SCENE OF BURGLARY

Money, Equipment Stolen; Crystal Lake Store Also Entered.

Between four and five dollars in pennies, three electric fans, a match box machine, small radio, glass coffee maker and an electric toaster were among the articles stolen Tuesday night from the Mar-o-del lunch room operated by Mrs. Iris Crowley. It was reported at the county sheriff's office. Entrance was made by prying the door open. A juke box was badly damaged in an effort to break open the money container as was also a cigarette vending machine. The latter was found in the yard near the building. No money was taken from either machine.

Sheriff's deputies also were called to Crystal Lake to investigate a theft of peanuts and candy at a confectionery store on the grounds. Early Thursday morning, entrance to the stand was gained by opening the door.

Prospect Church To Honor Men in Service

Special to The Star
PROSPECT, Aug. 6.—Sunday, at 10:30 a. m. the Prospect Methodist church will mark the first anniversary of the dedication of the Service Flag and Honor Roll of the church. The newly organized Boy Scout Troop 23 will attend and Miss Esther Keller will sing. A new prayer hymn for those in the service will be sung by the congregation for the first time. A souvenir folder in colors, carrying the names of all on the Honor Roll will be presented to each person present.

The original drawing for the insignia of the Army Chemical Warfare Service reportedly was made on a cigarette wrapper by an officer who is now a clergyman.

Ohioan Bags Nazi Plane in Spite of Heavy Enemy Fire

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Nazi fire, bullets and 19 Focke-Wulf planes shot down Tuesday, Sgt. Richard J. Riley of Lakeport, Ohio, got an enemy plane during a battle near Paris, the war department reported today.

During the peak of the battle, Sergeant Riley, radio operator on the Flying Fortress "Queen Bee," smelled smoke and discovered it was his own parachute and life preserver burning. He squirmed the fire extinguisher over his shoulder and put out the fire. He had been caused by the explosion of a 20 mm incendiary shell in his compartment.

Two minutes later a bullet clipped the Ohioan's goggles off his head.

The enemy planes shot out one of the "Queen Bee's" engines and damaged one propeller, and the pilot decided to dive to within 50 feet of the ground to shake the Nazis.

On the way down—at 300 miles an hour—Sergeant Riley bagged one enemy plane, as did three other crew members. The bomber grazed the top of a haystack. Gas and oil tanks had been hit and were spilling their contents. Sergeant Riley reported at one time there were six inches of gasoline sloshing around in the bomb bay.

To add to the dangerous situation the fortress was still carrying its bombs since the crew refused to drop them where they might kill French civilians. Finally the bomber reached the channel, the crew jettisoned the bombs in the sea and arrived at the English base safely.

COFFEE MAKER

You'll have more success with your coffee, and the coffee maker will last longer, if you give it the proper care. Above all things, be sure to keep it very clean. It is the oils that remain after the coffee is cooked, that grow rancid and give you that bitter taste.

If yours is a glass coffee maker with a cloth filter, be sure to rinse out the filter cloth thoroughly with cold water after each using. Between usings, keep the cloth in a glass of cold water.

If you have an aluminum coffee maker, wash it thoroughly after each use and rub the inside with a cleanser pad and soap. Be sure to rinse it out thoroughly. It only takes a few seconds, but this daily care will keep the pot sweet and clean at all times.

If your coffee pot is made of any other metal, every once in a while substitute a tablespoon of baking soda for the coffee, add water, and proceed just as though you were making the morning coffee. This will remove any trace of "staleness" and your coffee maker will be sweet and clean again.

RULES ON AIR MAIL POSTAGE ANNOUNCED

Required To Keep Weight Within Limits.

White and blue seals on air mail letters in use by almost every one these days, but a comparatively few really know the meaning of the postage. A seal brings the answer. It tells you that it takes six cents for an ounce of mail. It does take that, but it is only a part of the story.

Officials announced that some letters are mailed with the required six cents when the paper and envelope weigh more than the stated ounce. Others come through with a three-cent stamp added to the air mail postage, thinking that the extra three cents will be enough to take care of the added weight.

Rates for air mail are as follows: six cents for all letters weighing an ounce or fraction thereof; two cents for two ounces or a fraction thereof; and all air mail to an A. P. O. address requires six cents for a half ounce, twelve cents for an ounce and so on. Air mail for outside the country is limited to two ounces.

Some time ago the government ruled that all letters without sufficient postage must be returned to the sender. Now, however, the rule permits the letter to be forwarded with the postage due.

Authorities also stated today that an envelope weighing eight ounces may be sent first class, without a written request from a member of the Armed Forces. Packages are limited to five pounds and must not be over 15 inches long. The combined length and girth must not exceed 32 inches. The rule which required an officer's order before a package could be sent to a member of the Army has been revoked. Packages may now be sent without this official O. K., but the sender must still show a letter bearing a request for the article shipped. Navy personnel may receive packages without the sender being required to show such a letter.

All air mail parcels are opened at the Marion office and must be inspected by two clerks before they are sent on to the destination.

It was announced that sales of stamps and receipts reached an all time high during last December when the total was $31,000. April has been the biggest month since the holiday season with receipts totaling $23,000. The latter is the largest amount of sales recorded at the office for an ordinary month.

Green Camp Corn Plant Gets Set To Start Season Aug. 23

GREEN CAMP, Aug. 6.—Extensive remodeling work is nearing completion at the Green Camp corn plant preparatory to opening for the season's run on Monday, Aug. 23.

The plant, as in former years, is being operated by the E. B. Hostetter Co. of Richmond. Frank L. Cramer and L. J. McCoy of Richmond will be in charge of operations.

A large crib has been built with a new overhead unloading drag. Several doors are arranged overhead in the crib and the drag will unload the corn at any door, thus equalizing the distribution of corn in the crib and making unnecessary frequent shoveling of the corn onto the conveyor taking the corn into the main part of the plant.

Another improvement this year is the installation of large electric motors to furnish the power to operate the various machines.

OPEN EVENINGS.

The steam boilers this year will be used only to cook and dehydrate the corn.

Last year approximately 200,000 pounds of dehydrated corn left the local plant. It is expected that the same amount will be produced this year. There are 400 acres of sweet corn under contract, the same as last year.

The dehydrated corn is taken to Richmond in large drums where it is packaged for the wholesale grocery trade. To combat the manpower shortage a new weighing and sealing machine has been installed at Richmond. The machine requires two women operators and is said to do work formerly requiring 14 employees. The dehydrated corn is put up in 4 1/2 and 8 ounce packages.

Mr. McCoy said the plant will operate about five or six weeks, 24 hours a day, or until about the first of October. There will be between 30 and 40 employees, about one-third of whom will be women.

The manpower shortage in Green Camp at present is acute. In former years there were several women and men who worked extra weeks the corn plant was in operation. At present a large percentage of these have jobs in war industries in Marion.

The plant has been in operation since 1917.

EXPERT TESTIFIES IN NASSAU DEATH CASE

By The Associated Press
NASSAU, Bahamas, Aug. 6.—A New York identification expert swore yesterday that a fingerprint on a paper-covered wooden screen in the room where Sir Harry Oakes was bludgeoned and burned to death was made by the multi-millionaire baronet's son-in-law, Alfred de Marigny.

Frank Conway of the New York bureau of criminal identification, testifying at a preliminary hearing for the tall, bearded de Marigny, before Magistrate F. E. Field said fingerprints as a means of identification were infallible.

Never before in an important case in this British colony have fingerprints been used as evidence. Immediately after Conway completed his testimony and cross-examination, Field adjourned the hearings until next Tuesday.

De Marigny is charged with murder.

Move Started To Boost Marion Club Membership.

Louis M. Holmes, state treasurer of the Christian Commercial Men's association, better known as the Gideons, was principal speaker at a meeting of the recently organized Marion Gideons club in the reading room of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night.

Mr. Holmes led the group in a discussion of the proper procedure for a newly formed Gideons club to be organized. He gave an outline of how the local club could secure necessary information on the function of the national Gideons association and how it could acquire sufficient Bibles with which to carry out the aim of the club.

John Stafford was elected Bible secretary of the local Gideons following Mr. Holmes' address. The eight Gideons present last night, the local present membership of the club, also discussed methods of how to increase enrollment. They expressed the belief that after benefiting from Mr. Holmes' counsel they could substantially increase membership before the next meeting, which has been scheduled for Aug. 24 at the Y.

The Gideons were organized here on June 27, when the first meeting was held. Election of officers was held at that time. Last night's meeting marked the first time the club had met since the organization meeting.

RESURFACING WORK ONE-THIRD COMPLETE

Route 23 Project Progresses Rapidly, Engineer Reports.

Resurfacing work on an 11-mile stretch of Route 23, south of Marion, is now more than one-third complete, Clyde Porterfield, district engineer of the state highway department, reported today.

T-35, an asphaltic blacktop material, has already been applied between the Marion corporation limit and Norton. Resurfacing is being done by Max Zeller and Co., Columbus contractors, to whom the contract was awarded about a month ago.

Workmen are now in the process of applying the second of the three courses of asphalt to be placed on the highway. They have already spent two weeks on the resurfacing, Porterfield said. The work will probably continue for another month.

All three applications of the blacktop are state specified and will be applied by the same methods and will be nearly identical in thickness, Porterfield stated.

OHIO SERIES "E" WAR BOND SALES MOUNT

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, Aug. 6.—The war finance committee for Ohio reported yesterday July Series "E" war bond sales totaled $43,641,000, dispelling fears the new withholding tax might seriously affect sales.

The committee said the July figure represented an increase of approximately $3,000,000 over the $40,643,000 June total and added 51 of the state's 88 counties exceeded June sales.

Cuyahoga county again led the state in July with an $11,330,000 figure. Other leading counties were: Franklin $2,173,000; Hamilton $4,520,000; Lucas $2,418,000; Mahoning $1,645,000; Montgomery $3,361,000; Stark $2,015,000; and Summit $3,579,000.

Total sales of Series "E" bonds for the fiscal year 1942-43 were $308,148,000, compared to $190,262,000 for the fiscal year 1941-42.

Former Cardington Resident in Seabees

The Navy recruiting station here has received word that Thomas D. White, carpenter's mate first class is receiving his Seabee training at Williamsburg, Va.

Mr. White lived in Cardington at the time he entered the U. S. Navy. He was formerly employed as carpenter's foreman for C. B. Johnson Co., of Chicago, who constructed warehouses at the Ordnance plant.

Marion Navy recruiters emphasize the need for men who are skilled in the construction trades, and men who are handy with tools and equipment to serve in the Navy's construction battalion — "Seabees." Every man between the ages of 17 and 50 who contemplates entering the fighting forces of the country is encouraged to investigate the opportunities available in the Seabees.

Soldier Goes to Movie in New Guinea, Sees Marion Uncle and His Rock Garden

Evidence that the men at the fighting front are pleased to see something from their home town or state is found in the 18 or 20 letters which have been received by Earl R. Johnson of 195 Hard avenue from service men stationed in England, Africa, Panama, New Zealand, Australia and New Guinea.

The letters were written about Mr. Johnson's rock garden, pictures of which have been shown in the above places and perhaps others. The pictures were taken by the Universal Motion Picture Company of Cleveland a year ago this summer.

Last word received about the garden was from Mr. Max Johnson, son of Mr. Johnson, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Johnson of Marion. The letter, written July 12, told how surprised he was when attending a picture show in New Guinea, to see his uncle, his home, and his rock garden in a show in New Guinea. In the letter, he wrote: "I came back here and told the fellows, but they laughed at me, and said I had jungle fever. So, now, will you please send me something that will prove it. Of course, if you haven't got a picture of it, just send me your word and that will be enough."

Not all of the letters received by Mr. Johnson are from Marion boys. Some are from boys who have, from other parts of Ohio, and are just glad to see anything from the Buckeye state.

The rock garden, located in Mr. Johnson's backyard, has been made without the aid of hired help and the rocks have not been cemented. They are clustered together in various forms and designs.

Southerners Feel Two Strong Parties Are Needed in South

BY GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 6.—What chance is there that the South will form a new Democratic party in next year's election?

While political writers have reported the views of the South leaders toward the political problems of their section, the Institute through a staff of 161 interviewers located in the 13 Southern states has gathered the views of the rank and file of Southern voters.

In theory at least, the voters of the South believe that section would be better off if it had two strong political parties. In practice, however, the South gives every indication of going along with the Democrats next year as usual.

Judging by the survey results, the Democrats would if an election were held today be able to count on their usual backing of 49 electoral votes from the 13 Southern States. In a recent Presidential "trial heat" pitting President Roosevelt against Wendell Willkie for 1944 the Institute found Roosevelt polling about the same percentage in the South as he did in 1940.

Nevertheless many Southerners deplore the fact that, owing to the traditional strength of the Democrats below the Mason-Dixon line, theirs is in effect a one-party system. They believe that if the South were less solidly Democratic, it would get more attention from Washington, and that the South would not have to be placed in the position of accepting New Deal or other ideas toward which it is critical.

The south's views on the subject were sounded by the Institute on the following question: "Do you think the South would be better off, in general, if there were two political parties of about equal strength instead of one strong party as there is at present?"

The vote on this issue today, as compared to the results of a poll on the same issue four years ago, follows:

|       | Yes | No  |
|-------|-----|-----|
| 1939  | 57% | 43% |
| Today | 59  | 41  |

But if a vigorous two-party system were developed in the South, the second party would have to carry a different party label from that of the Republican Party. Rather than vote Republican,

Croakers To the Contrary

YESTERDAY'S good in its combination—Orel and Calumet—will inspire the croakers to new triumphs of gloomy foreboding.

They said war is that the Germans are still in Russia, still in Italy, that Italy is still in the war; that Japan hasn't even been brought to grips yet, and that it is a long way to victory.

They will renew their warnings that war production is slipping; that the state department has been standing on its own feet in the awkward political situations that have arisen in France and Italy; that things are not going smoothly on the home front.

They will view with alarm the prospect of post-war complications; of obstacles in the way of the "four freedoms" and both little d and big D democracy. They will caution us one and all against over-optimism.

And in all this they will completely miss the reason for popular elation. It is based on the sheer picture of knowing the arrogant Nazis are getting their ears pinned back close to their thick heads on all fronts. With full knowledge of everything that is wrong, including even a few things that the croakers don't worry about, such as their own unhealthy influence, most Americans are tickled pink to be reassured that Germany, which thought it could lick everybody, isn't licking anybody now. What is happening is not a surge of dangerous over-confidence, but a psychological spasm to celebrate the proof of something that millions of people had been forced to doubt many times since Germany began to show its muscle four years ago. The Helms and their helpers aren't any better this time than they were the last time—and that wasn't good enough.

The Case of John Bovington

JOHN BOVINGTON, the economist fired from office of economic warfare by Leo T. Crowley, its new director, may leave a bigger ripple on the pond of oblivion as he disappears into it than he realizes.

Mr. Bovington, who stood accused by the Dies committee of such traits as ballet dancing and association at one time or another with radicals, has not been defended by his superior, hence the size of the ripple.

In other instances of federal jobholders put on the pan by Dies committee accusations and notably in the case of certain jobholders in federal communications commission specifically excluded from employment after a certain date by what President Roosevelt has called a congressional "bill of attainder," the executive branch has refused to accept either the word or the spirit of criticism from any legislative source.

Director Crowley, in contrast, wasted no time in interviewing Mr. Bovington and arranging for his immediate departure from OEI. The import of this promptness will not be overlooked by other jobholders, by legislators and by officials of the executive department. Mr. Crowley has made an abrupt departure from the New Deal line on supreme authority over the swelling federal bureaucracy. He has said to congress in effect that he makes no blanket defense for every person who has become attached to the federal payroll under New Deal auspices. It's hard on John Bovington, perhaps too hard, but it may ease the battle of Washington tremendously.

Taxes Aren't Theory

TAXATION is perhaps the most complicated of all the simple subjects. No one has anything but sympathy for the congressmen who are supposed to take the treasury's estimates of need and national capacity to pay and blend them into a tax law that will be completely satisfactory.

Of course, it can't be done, and the congressmen know it. Even without partisan politics and vote dodging, it couldn't be done—and in the face of the forthcoming presidential and congressional election they will be stronger influence than ever. It is a dark prospect.

But congressmen are plunging ahead. Treasury experts are plunging ahead. Taxpayers are plunging ahead. Taxation is being tackled as a wartime necessity. As Rep. Doughton, chairman of the house ways and means committee, sees it the job is not only to produce revenue but to restrain the forces of inflation.

It is reassuring to hear Rep. Doughton, Sen. George, Sen. Hatch and even one treasury spokesman, Stanley S. Surrey, expressing concern over the special problem of citizens with fixed earning power being ground between the upper and nether millstones of rising taxes and prices. Their plight does not show up in the statistics commonly used to support tax theories. Like many corporations caught by corporate tax laws based on averages, they are victims of the classical folly of killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. A tax law which aims to produce revenue and restrain inflation must be aimed not at gross income, but at war-created income.

"A" FOR ADOLF!

Communists May Seek Control of Italy

Circumstances Similar to Turmoil Existing After World War I.

THE wheels within the wheels of Italy's political revolt being held in check by the Badoglio regime may be Communist efforts in the country. Foremost question in the minds of the best informed observers is whether Communism possesses sufficient strength to take over. The answer may depend on Joseph Stalin.

If he could be persuaded that the part of the Italian "underground" which operates to the advantage of Russia can be trusted to make a bid for power without reviving the fear of post-war Communism throughout Europe, the successor to the Badoglio government might attempt to raise the emblem of the hammer and sickle over Italy.

The same question now coming out of Italy's political turmoil is implicit in the French turmoil, never settled satisfactorily. In most of the unsettled countries of Europe, the strongest and best organized "underground" movement is the Communists. They always are the first to take advantage of revolutionary conditions.

While it is overlooked now in the light of Fascism's development as a reactionary political movement, Mussolini's original platform was liberal. His supporters were mostly former Socialists.

Italy's King May By Own Acts Prevent Return of Monarchy

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Old Marshal Badoglio is attempting some mighty risky juggling with the throne of Italy in his efforts to divert at one and the same time the attention of the Allies, who demand unconditional surrender forthwith, and the Germans, who are said to threaten reprisals if he throws up the sponge.

The Italian public wants peace. Fiery demonstrations in many sections of the country show that the people are in that frame of mind which bodes no good for anyone who stands between them and the return to normal for which they so long have yearned. The fact that Badoglio is keeping the lid on by a vigorous display of force doesn't alter that fact.

Now it was King Vittorio Emanuele who, willingly or otherwise, named Badoglio chief of state, with dictatorial powers, when Mussolini collapsed the other day. The monarchy in the minds of his subjects with any fresh misfortune which may come to them because of the marshal's failure to accept the allied terms, thus inviting bombing and invasion.

Political Fate in Balance Badoglio may see the writing on the wall and surrender. If he persists in playing the Hitlerian games, however, and so condemns his unfortunate country to the horrors of further war, he may precipitate an ultimate political change with far reaching consequences.

Badoglio or no Badoglio, the allies are going to take over Italy. Then in due course, when the fires of war have died away in Europe, the people of the country will be permitted to choose the form of government under which they wish to live—so long as it isn't Fascist or Nazi. The United Nations have promised this to the axis countries.

Will the people want to retain a king who contributed to their suffering? Will they want to keep the monarchy?

Only time can answer those momentous questions. However, we are bound to note that during the recent days of crisis political elements in various parts of the country have been demonstrating in favor of other forms of government.

Among the demonstrators are said to be Communists. One would points won by the player: J. Weiss 85 (0), Barney Buettin 83 (3); Dale Rose 82 (1), E. C. Dee 81 (2); Carl Danner 80 (3); R. E. White 96 (0); Jay Newell 110 (0); George Planck 104 (2); William Ulmer 92 (0); Charles Sherer 87 (3); Sheldon Dodds 102 (0); Earl J. Pierce 89 (3); Wayne Jenkins 93 (3); George Alber 97 (0); Leonard Young 103 (0); J. T. Carliss 101 (3); Paul Bachman 110 (1); Fred M. Sage 110 (24); John Dowler 99 (2); William Higham 106 (1); Bob Mason 117 (1); J. H. Harmon 114 (2); Jack Sharkey 100 (0); C. O. Brown 100 (3); Hector Young 94 (3); R. T. Lewis 103 (0); Jerry Passen 137 (0); Lou Marsh 118 (3); Fred Morris 106 (3); Mac Metz 111 (0); George Probst 100 (12); W. M. Preston 102 (12); Dr. A. J. Wagner (12); Dr. Dan Brickley (12).

Other scores not included in the tournament included Robert E. Woodruff 91, A. J. Whiting 90, William R. Avar 98, Mr. Lirut 105, Ray Pollard 122, Mr. Barbour 103, Charles F. Kerrey 107, George Frank 92, J. M. Livermore 110, and W. H. Carlson 82.

Awards Made

E. C. Dee, a member of the Rotary club, was awarded $5 in war savings stamps for low score, an 81. He scored a 42 on the outgoing nine and 39 on the back stretch. Dale Rose and W. H. Carlson tied for second honors with scores of 82. Each received a golf ball. Barney Buettin, who carded an 83, won third prize.

A. J. Whiting of Mt. Gilead won the putting award. Prize for high score went to Jerry Passen, who scored 137. Barney Buettin scored the most holes in four shots but because he had won another prize the award was presented to Mr. Woodruff, who was second in this department with five 4s.

DECISION REVERSED IN JACOBY CASE

Court of Appeals Rules in Disciplinary Action.

Reversing a decision of the common pleas court, the district court of appeals Wednesday rendered an opinion in the case of J. Wilbur Jacoby, Marion attorney facing disciplinary action as a result of conviction in the Forest Glen, Inc. conspiracy and fraud case. The ruling was in favor of a two-man Marion County Bar association committee appointed to bring the action against Mr. Jacoby.

In September of 1942 Mr. Jacoby filed a demurrer in which he cited five grounds for asking that the demurrer be sustained. The first two state that the charges filed against him were filed in a federal court under federal laws and that the crime involved in the case was a crime under the laws of the state of Ohio. He also said: (3) it is not charged that the crime of which he was convicted was a crime involving moral turpitude; (4) the charges do not set forth and charge distinctly any ground or grounds of complaint which warrant any disciplinary action by the common pleas court under the laws of Ohio.

The demurrer was upheld by a three-man court which met here on Sept. 21, 1942. The judges were the late Fred Wolf of Wauseon, Edward H. Savord of Sandusky and Marion B. Owen of Urbana.

The bar association committee appealed the case to the district court of appeals at Lima and the decision of the common pleas court was reversed. The higher court ordered the matter returned to the Marion court. Unless Mr. Jacoby appeals to the state supreme court the proceedings will be resumed here. After a journal entry is made of the district court decision, Mr. Jacoby will have 20 days in which to appeal the case to the state supreme court.

The district court's opinion was contained in an 18-page document prepared by Judge Robert B. Putman of Millersburg, a member of the Fifth district court of appeals. He, along with Judge Charles W. Montgomery of Newark and John C. Nichols of Warren, heard the appeal at Lima. Judge Montgomery is a member of the Fifth district court and Judge Nichols is a member of the Seventh district.

Howard F. Guibery and H. Alfred Donihue make up the bar association committee. They were named last August by Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young to "prepare and file written charges, setting forth specifications covering grounds of the complaint" charging Mr. Jacoby with being convicted under the federal laws.

The Crown Prince

All this doesn't necessarily predicate the fall of the monarchy, of course. Still, one would think that Emanuele will be very lucky if he himself doesn't slip from his golden throne. If the monarchy wouldn't be surprising to see Crown Prince Umberto take over from his father.

Umberto is 39—a tall, erect figure who is the Italian ideal of a soldier. He has had much training both in affairs of state and in military matters. He is married to the beautiful Princess Maria Jose, sister of the king of the Belgians, and they have a son and four daughters.

There was a time when Italy wasn't overly pleased with Umberto. Those were the days when youthful indiscretions shocked the more sober minded of his father's subjects. The crown prince outgrew his penchant for the hot spots, though, and developed both stability and capability. As a result he has stood well with the public, and might make an acceptable king—if the monarchy lives.

SOVIET PAPER MAKES NEW SECOND FRONT PLEA

Declares It Would Pave Way for Hitler Fall in 1943.

MOSCOW, Aug. 6.—An urgent appeal for speedy establishment of a second front in Europe came today from the Soviet publication "War and the Working Classes," which asserted it would be "the key to victory over Hitler in 1943."

Declaring that the war had reached a turning point with axis defeats on the Russian front, in Tunisia and Sicily, the trade unions magazine said that "the victory of freedom-loving countries over Hitlerite Germany is possible in the very near future."

Creation of a second front should divert at least 60 German divisions from Russia, the article said.

Mt. Gilead Pilot In Africa Gets Awards

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 6.—Lieut. Richard Denton, 24, of Mt. Gilead, was recently awarded the Air Force medal and four oak leaf clusters for distinguished service in the Mediterranean area, according to word received this week by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Denton.

Pilot of a Mitchell B-25 medium bomber, he had been in North Africa since February. Lieut. Denton recently completed his thirtieth sortie against the axis. He received his wings at Williams Field, Phoenix, Ariz., in October, 1942.

SUNDAY PLAY SET AT GOLF COURSES

Tourney Matches Expected at Both Local Clubs.

Since only about a half dozen first round matches in the Mar-O-Dei club handicap golf tournament have been played thus far, course officials have not scheduled any one-day tournaments Sunday in order to give club tourney participants sufficient time in which to complete their matches.

First round matches for the tournament were originally set as Aug. 7 but it probably will have to be moved back so that all 31 matches in the men's division and 6 contests in the women's section can be played.

No special events have been planned for the Marion County club this week-end. Club professional Andy K. Dewar expects many members to qualify for the annual club championship and President's Trophy. Sunday, qualifying deadline will be Sunday, Aug. 15.

Dewar explains entrants may use the same qualifying score for both the club event and the President's Trophy. Sunday, qualifying deadline will be Sunday, Aug. 15.

Sunday is also the last day Country club members may play off quarter-final matches in the Vice President's Trophy. This tournament for over a month was being played under the name of the President's trophy. However, since there were three flights in the event, club members voted to change the title to the Vice President's handicap trophy.

NEWS FROM OUR BOYS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Totaro of 1331 Canby court have received word that their son, James, has had a serious attack of malaria fever and is in the U. S. Naval hospital in Oakland, Calif., recovering rapidly. Three weeks ago he was home for extension of leave after being stationed in the Solomon Islands area and Guadalcanal for 15 months. While in the Guadalcanal area, where he participated in seven battles, he was struck down with the fever for the first time. Totaro, who is an aviation machinist, made first class a graduate of Harding High school. He has been in the Navy six years and has sailed six times.

Seaman Second Class Raymond Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur, of 1331 Canby court, has been awarded a Purple Heart for wounds received in action. Seaman Arthur was wounded in action at Guadalcanal, Aug. 12, 1942. He was then transferred to the Naval Hospital at P. H. Quigg, Calif., for advanced training in medicine.

Lt. Thomas A. Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Baldwin of 199 East Main street, has just completed his basic flight training at the Marine Army Flying school with class 43-1, according to word from the school in Merced, Calif.

Lt. Baldwin was employed by the Erie Railroad Co. before he started his training at Merced. He was commissioned in the infantry at Santa Ana, Calif., Feb. 13, 1942. He has been transferred to Ft. Sargent, N. M., where he will be given his advanced flying instruction. At the completion of his course there, Lt. Baldwin will receive his wings.

U. S. HOLDS 4 TO 1 PLANE EDGE ON JAPS

By The Associated Press

U. S. HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Aug. 6.—Japan has lost more than 100 as many warships and four times as many planes as the United States in the South Pacific since the beginning of the Solomon campaign one year ago.

A compilation based on official communication showed today the extent of American superiority over the enemy in the air as well as on sea.

Figures covering the period of Aug. 6, 1942 to May 6, 1943, for the South Pacific only, placed Japanese losses at 90 warships sunk, 16 probably sunk and 129 damaged.

United States losses were 41 ships sunk and nine damaged. Enemy aircraft destroyed totaled 1,802 planes of all categories. Ours were not listed in their entirety, but a Navy spokesman said American losses were less than one-fourth of the enemy's, or in the vicinity of 450 planes.

But for our losses, we gained a toe-hold in the Solomons. American forces now occupy Guadalcanal, several smaller islands and have all but driven the enemy from New Georgia Island with its strategic Munda airbase, center of bitter fighting.

Japan, were rushing aerial reinforcements for attacks on potential allied "Bomb Tokyo" bases in China.

The spokesman said at least 80 planes had arrived at one enemy air field in Anhwei province alone and that the Japanese were hurriedly enlarging their two main air bases in Hupoh province.

CONGRESSMAN CHARGES ARMY DUMPED POTATOES

Declares 37 Carloads Thrown Away; Civilians Salvage Many.

VINCENNES, Ind., Aug. 6.—Rep. Gerald Linds (R-Ind.) reported today 37 carloads of potatoes, which he said were government owned and valued at $50,000, were abandoned from Army trucks onto Vincennes city dump.

Linds asserted he had telegraphed a demand to War Food Administrator Marvin Jones for an investigation of the dumping of the potatoes, many of which were picked up by residents. Some placed the spuds on sale for $1 a bushel, Linds said.

Declaring it was a "fitting example of New Deal blundering," Linds, in a statement said, "I want to get at the bottom of this thing and find out who is responsible for this waste of government money."

"Most potatoes were lost... than were grown in all the victory gardens of Knox county," Linds said.

MISS GEBHARDT DIES AT HOME ON ELM ST.

Suffered Stroke Tuesday Evening; Funeral Saturday.

Miss Mary Naomi Gebhardt, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Gebhardt of 232 Elm street, died at 7:10 p. m. yesterday at the Knickerbocker hotel. Her death was caused from a stroke suffered Tuesday evening at her home.

Miss Gebhardt, who was 51 years old Dec. 21 last year, was born at Zanesville to George W. Gebhardt and Mary Louise Gebhardt, nee Miller, natives of that city. She came to Marion 10 years ago from Zanesville. She was a member of St. Mary Catholic church, St. Mary Altar society and Our Lady of Victory Circle, Daughters of Isabella.

Surviving are her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Knight, a sister, Mrs. Hardy G. Knutson, nee Gebhardt, of Cincinnati, two half-sisters, Mrs. A. F. Miller of Trenton and Mrs. Henry High of Oak street and a brother, Leo Knutson of North State street.

The requiem mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Mary Catholic church, with the pastor, Rev. Father William J. Spickard, as the celebrant. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery. Friends may call at the L. A. Ave. & Son funeral home on Mt. Vernon avenue until the funeral hour.

URGE NEW STUDIES BEFORE TAKING DADS

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—With the father-draft question raised anew at widely separated points on the home front, a sub-committee of the house military affairs committee came forth today with a recommendation for full review of selective service quotas and procedure.

Reps. John M. Castello (D-Calif.) and Forest A. Hartness (R-Ind.), sub-committee chairman, said in a joint statement:

"We recommend that there should be no draft of fathers until there has been a complete re-examination of all persons classified as 4-F, and that a better utilization of the available manpower between the ages of 38 and 45 be made."

Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Hershey, national selective service director, is scheduled to testify Monday.

Hershey declined comment last night upon the announcement of a Union county, New Jersey, draft board that it would draft no fathers while single men still were deferred.

In Catonsville, Md., Hershey asserted yesterday local boards should decide if fathers with one child would be drafted, before those with more children, because a local board might find drafting of a father of one could work a greater hardship than drafting a father of many.

"I would rather rise or fall on the local boards and their mistakes than on the inactivity of federal agencies which cannot act without getting approval from people who may know infinitely little about local situations," he declared.

FORESEES FREE HAND FOR FARMERS NEXT SEASON

Farm Bureau Chief Believes There Will Be Less U. S. Control.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—President A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau federation expressed belief yesterday farmers would have more freedom next year in determining their individual crop and livestock production programs.

"The trend in agriculture," he said, "is definitely away from central government control and toward more local, individual control."

O'Neal made this statement after conferring with war food administrator Marvin Jones on plans for the 1944 food program which, Jones has announced, will call for record plantings of 380,000,000 acres to food and feed crops and the maintenance of livestock production at near the present peak.

One of the questions discussed with Jones, the Farm Bureau chief said, was the matter of obtaining farmer cooperation with production goals of various crops to be set up under the food program. The food administrator has indicated that AAA acreage allotments and right marketing quotas—with the exception of the non-food crop of tobacco—would be abandoned.

"War Will Last Three Weeks to Three Months"

CHAPTER 5

CROWDS were camped all around the station, surrounded by shapless masses of belongings, rolled in blankets when I arrived from my hotel. On the lawn squatted the women, their children dashing around excitedly over the grass. On the sidewalks, in long queues leading to the ticket offices, were troops. Around them stalked naval officers in white, army officers in khaki. The place was besieged.

I got out my ticket, and dashed for the train waiting on the track. I had never before been on a Russian train. All my travels in the Soviet Union had been by plane or by car. This was to be a rough initiation into the mysteries of the Russian railway, for six people were already standing with proprietary airs, in the compartment to which I was assigned. There were two middle-aged men, two women, apparently their wives, and two young men. And there were only four bunks.

"Oh, ho, here comes another one of ours," chorried a woman, so I knew there was no mistake. This was really my compartment. I dropped my bags and fled back to the platform, leaving to them the distribution of those four beds among seven persons.

Outside, the baggage man, who had caught up with me by then, suggested I go on a hunt for bread, but I refused to move away from that precious train. He returned after a while with a glass of pink sodawater, but no bread. It had all been bought up by the crowd swarming around the station. As the sun was setting, the train pulled out, without warning whistle or bell, and I swung aboard.

Ivan goes calmly to war... the war that the experts had predicted would be over in three weeks!

The long, heavily laden train rattled slowly over the fragile single track skirting the Black Sea, in the shadow of the great, snow-capped Caucasus Mountains rising to the east. I stood in the passageway, and prayed fervently that it would keep on rattling ahead until it reached Moscow. But there were many stops to be made.

At station after station we halted to take on more passengers. Most of them were rugged, bronzed little fellows, mountaineers clutching a rifle in one hand, a loaf of bread in the other. They went to war with a grin, waving back at the little clusters of family and friends who had come to bid them farewell. Behind them, at the village stations, musicians sat on the dirt paths, playing accordions. From the towns they went off to the tunes of martial music, blared from loudspeakers over the wooden platforms. Everywhere they went cheerfully.

In the purple twilight the train began to pick up speed as it cleared the foothills of the Caucasus, and the Black Sea beaches, already surrounded by barbed wire and patrolled by armed men, swished by mysteriously. It was time to go to bed.

I walked down the passageway, and there were my six roommates, sitting on the bottom bunks. They were waiting for me. "You go there," said one of the middle-aged men, waving at the upper left bunk. I climbed into it, took off my outer clothes, slipped under the blanket and rolled close to the wall, facing it and wondering how many more would sleep in this place, hardly big enough for me.

There were thrashings and bumpings and giggles below, and then the lights went out. I was still alone in bed.

A hand tapped my shoulder. It was the same middle-aged man. "You will be alone," he said. I rolled over and saw through the gloom that he was getting into one lower bunk with his wife. The other couple had taken the second lower bunk. The two young men were in the upper, opposite me.

That's democracy, the middle-aged man said from his bed.

At the first stop, the next morning, there was a rush from the train. Being an abashed novice, I waited in bed until the others had left, and then dressed. By the time I reached the passageway, the train was under way again, and the passengers were gathered around a fortunate one who had found a morning newspaper. He was reading the communiqué of June 23:

"...directions of Shauli, Kausas, Volkovsk, Korobinsk, Vladimir-Volynsk, Rava Russka, and Brodsk... In the Belostok and Brest directions the Germans succeeded in capturing the cities of Brest, Kolno, and Lomja..."

"Our territory?" someone asked incredulously.

"Of course, our territory!" It was not only in quest of the communiqué that the passengers had rushed off the train at the first stop. They had gone foraging for food. I had the unpleasant surprise of finding there was no dinner on the train, and that if I was to eat at all, in the incalculable number of days before reaching Moscow, it would have to be food I snatched from station platforms between stops. At the same time I had the pleasant surprise of finding that the train was bowling along beautifully, as though there was no war.

For two days it went that way. Nonchalantly it pulled through the grain fields of the North Caucasus, past the swampy shores of the Sea of Azov, beyond which the turrets of Taganrog rose to the distance like a mirage, to the Don city of Rostov. Past the still busy steel plants of the Donetz Basin, it rolled into the black-earth region to Voronezh. Up the main line, it steamed through Kursk, Orel, and Tula.

At each stop I dashed with the others for food. Only once did I get any. That was toward the close of the second day, when my middle-aged compartment-mate, taking pity on my inexperience, guided me to the head of a queue and bought me a glorious caviar and tomato sandwich.

AFTER dark on the second day, the passengers began to stir excitedly. We were nearing Moscow. But perhaps it was being bombed and we would not be able to reach the city. If we arrived there, perhaps we would be locked in the train for the night, because of the curfew. At least, we would be confined to the station, because there would be no automobiles to take us and our baggage home. Quietly, almost furtively, the train rolled through the dark suburbs to the Kursk station. We had arrived on peace-time schedule. And in Moscow the most unexpected of all things happened—nothing at all.

I went into a telephone booth and dialed the number of my assistant, Robert Mackdoff. A miracle, he answered in his usual normal croaking, sleep-thickened voice that was as sweet to me then as the soprano of Lily Pons. And miracle of miracles, there was still gasoline! Pavel, the chauffeur, had not been mobilized, and they would be right over for me.

Pavel brought the Ford to the sidewalk in the swooping dive he loved to affect when picking up a passenger. I climbed in with them. I was back on the job!

I have said it turned out to be very good luck that I saw the start of the war from Sochi, not Moscow. The morning after my arrival I wrote a story of the provinces at war, of mobilization carried out with no apparent hitch, of the black-out installed effectively, of trains running promptly, of agriculture and industry working at top pitch. "My impression," I wrote, "was that the Soviets got off to a smooth start!"

Later, I was to learn that was the first wartime descriptive article sent from Moscow, the first optimistic story to relieve the monotony of the five-day-three-weeks-three-month predictions. I saw it quoted in Japanese papers. I saw it spread across the first pages of American newspapers under the headline:

IVAN GOES CALMLY TO WAR

I tried to tell my impressions to some of the experts who had predicted a short war. They wouldn't listen. They had been wrong about the Germans reaching Moscow in five days. For on that fifth day, the communiqué said German tanks which penetrated the Vlna sector of Lithuania were cut off from their supporting infantry and the Red army counterattacked in the Lwow and Cernavits sectors in Old Poland and Rumania. But they still insisted the war would last only three weeks to three months.

Coke Team Beats Waldo Again To Win Commercial Loop Flag

For the second straight year Coca-Cola is champion of the Commercial League. The beverage hot potatoes licked a rebellious and die-hard Waldo Dodge team, 2 to 1, at McKinley park last night to secure the crown.

However, you can bet your shirt that this year's Coke outfit is not nearly as proud of its pennant-winning as last year's. Last six-man circuit and a full 12-game schedule had to be worked through. This year since Coke and the Dodgers are the only two representatives of the Commercial loop, they played only two games. Coke won both of them.

Last night's nine-inning thriller was a far cry from the humiliating 20 to 0 lesson Coke

Three Ohioans in New Navy Casualty List

By The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The Navy announced yesterday 98 casualties, including 15 dead, 15 wounded and 68 missing. In addition charged status was given for seven previously listed casualties.

This brings to 27,875 the total of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since Dec. 7, 1941. The grand total includes 8,837 dead, 4,839 wounded, 9,970 missing and 4,159 prisoners of war.

The Ohio casualties announced (those listed are Navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified) included:

Gerald R. Ashdown, Marine, dead, East Palestine.

Jack Kenneth Kellogg, missing, New Philadelphia.

Robert Long, wounded, Mansfield.

Production and Severity of Weather to Be Big Factors.

By The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—U. S. householders dependent on coal heat will be comfortably buying this winter, if two big "ifs" on which the coal program is based don't become official headaches, D. C. Speaker reported today.

"If" the present rate of coal production is maintained, and "if" the weather in the 1943-44 heating season is no colder for no longer period than the abnormality severe and protracted 1942-43 winter, home heating coal supplies will be at least 90 per cent of 1942-43 consumption, Speaker said.

"The attitude of key men in the office of the solid fuels coordinator is jittery optimism," the unofficial authority continued. "They know there'll be leeches in the bathroom if production falls off for any reason, and a bad weather break could mean chills in the parlor."

Bituminous and anthracite coal production is now virtually normal after the strike stoppages which caused the government to take over the pits.

WAR REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK
 By HAROLD V. BOYLE
 Associated Press Correspondent
 WITH THE AMERICAN SEVENTH ARMY IN NORTHERN SICILY, July 29—(Delayed)—Leaves from a war reporter's notebook:

A tall young American naval lieutenant walked along the waterfront of a Sicilian port. His summer work uniform was wrinkled, and there was a hole in the heel of his left sock. He looked a little tired, but his face was brightly as he paused to look in a shop window. A Sicilian woman stepped up to speak to him.

She told him that she had lived in the United States but returned to Sicily leaving her son behind because he wanted to stay in America. Since then he had joined the Navy. She wanted to know if the young lieutenant knew him, and whether her son's Sicilian ancestry would handicap him in the service.

"Your son is not on my vessel, and I do not know him," the lieutenant answered, "but wherever he is with the United States Navy, he is being well treated."

He assured her that her son would not suffer any prejudice because his parents came from a country with which the United States was at war.

The woman turned away satisfied after thanking the lieutenant. She did not know he was Frank, Jr. of Roosevelt Jr., son of the president.

Brave men whose courage is tempered with battle caution make the best soldiers. Veteran campaigners develop an attitude of contempt for the ordinary soldier, for often he takes lives as well as his own needlessly and for no purpose. In the penalty for a careless soldier follows promptly. That penalty may be death.

During the march on Palermo the column was held up in a deep gorge by a mine from the city by a German 88 millimeter gun camouflaged on a ridge. Around a bend a platoon of riflemen returned to flank the gun from the surrounding hills.

At the advice of the others, the American Ohio farm boy went to shoot the problem.

'DOLE' FOR RETURNING SOLDIERS OPPOSED

By The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Republican congressmen dissatisfied with President Roosevelt's plans for the economic rehabilitation of returning soldiers are considering legislation under which war veterans would be absorbed by private business.

Their plans are in a nebulous stage but out of conferences now going on in some of the nation's business centers they said they expected something concrete to develop by the time congress convenes in September.

Rep. James V. Buchanan of New Jersey, World War I veteran who is spearheading the movement among freshmen members of congress, said the returning warriors would not want "a dolé or a handout."

"What they want and what they deserve is security for themselves and their families," he said.

Buchanan, a schoolmate of Grover of President Roosevelt, termed the administration's rehabilitation program "nothing but a handout and a dolé."

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

AS Ruth Hayes finished, I felt as if a ball made me not suddenly turned over and started revolving furiously. But instead of revolving, I increased the blink of my eyes which I had kept up intermittently during the questioning and spoke in apparent nervous panic.

"Um—hm, sorry, Madam, but my eyes are so bad like that they start to run like everything if I look straight out. The doctor said I must be awful careful of them or I'd have to go back to the hospital. Please excuse me, Madam."

"Oh, get along with you!" she started disgustedly. "You're absolutely the poorest excuse for a maid that I've ever seen, and I've seen some beauties in my time. But I've only one more question. Have you been on any other floor this morning?"

"No, Madam."

Madge Is Dismissed

"That's all, then. Shut the door as you go out."

I tried to move slowly as I went out of the room but found it hard work, for my muscles were urging my feet to race away from the hateful woman standing in Room 1726.

I closed the door behind me, but even as I did so, Dicky's bewailing of "Maid!" sounded from 1718.

I lost no time in getting to him and closing the door. Room service had been functioning, I saw, for I found him surveying with disgust a dainty tray holding tea, toast and orange juice.

"Tell me everything, quickly," he said, adding, "You like this sort of trick. Suppose you go to it."

"I'll drink a cup of tea," I said, pouring out a cup, and "I'll talk while it's cooling a bit. To make things like with my story, I have to go over to the opposite side, and pretend to be doing three rooms of my 'regulars'."

Hastily I ran through the conversation between Ruth Hayes and myself, and Dicky clenched his fists as he listened.

"Sometime I'm going to back that woman into pieces," he muttered, "after I've flayed every inch of skin off her."

"Oh, leave a few inches!" I pleaded laughingly. Then, draining my cup of tea, I turned toward the door.

But Dicky stopped me.

"She doesn't know whether you've left here or not," he said. "Drink that orange juice and nibble a piece of toast while I tell you what's been arranged for the next hour. Sit down!"

I obeyed, and as I ate and drank, listened carefully while he told me what had happened.

"Dad says Olina will reach the bank at eleven, and shortly after that she'll come over here. So we may reasonably expect Ruth Hayes to leave this floor and go STABILITY, peace and common sense should be habitually applied, this day, to putting on a firm and enduring basis the windfalls, graces and fertile fulfolloms that school have been precipitated and earned during immediately preceding periods. Such fruition comes as rewards of merit, labor and high purpose, and not fortuitously or by chance "rate." The pressure look in to solidify, expand, crystallize and establish for permanency and security.

Those whose birthday it is should apply themselves diligently and sensibly to pleasing recent culmination of good fortune and prevent, worth and responsibility by past performances, by seeking security and increasing and continuing stability. System, attention to details, tying up loose ends, perhaps wrestling with some upsetting, surprising developments may be in order. Sound ideas, programs and policies need not eliminate incidental fun, celebration, or romance. Others may offer wise counsel which may be confidently sought, but with discretion.

A child born on this day may have stability and dependability of character with proper qualities for wisely managing and increasing a probable inheritance or gift.

Detroit Plane Castings Plant Is Indicted

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—The Bohn Aluminum & Brass Corp. and three of its employees were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on charges they conspired to defraud the United States government by manufacture of castings for airplane engines in a manner contrary to war department specifications.

John C. Lehn, United States attorney, said the indictment included two conspiracy counts and three counts under the sabotage statute. He said there was no evidence of a seditious intent.

One conspiracy count charges the defendants conspired to commit acts which "would injure, interfere and obstruct" the United States and Great Britain in connection with the conduct of war by furnishing the Packard Motor Car Co. with welded, plugged and perfect castings.
